

Connect Your Crowd

Raise More with Sphere Events

Did You Know?

An estimated $3 billion dollars has been raised globally through online event fundraising sites in the last 7 years and many events regularly collect over 60% of their donations online.

Turn Your Participants Into Online Fundraisers

Sphere Events Friends Asking Friends technology provides your event participants with a set of tools that will help turn even non-technical constituents into successful online fundraisers. Starting with a proven format for online registration, Friends Asking Friends makes it easy for supporters to create personal pages, send out custom email solicitations, process donations instantaneously and thank donors with individual acknowledgements.

Get Started Quickly

Sphere Events solution deploys quickly and is easy to use. Event website set-up is facilitated with user-friendly checklists and transaction processing is provided directly by Blackbaud.

Manage Your Events More Effectively

Blackbaud offers a turnkey events management solution to oversee online and offline activities including an event website, participant management, donation processing, and extensive reporting.
